MAIL MIGRATION BEING ARRANGED TO CHACO JUNGLE

Claim They Are Weary of Religious Persecution in Canada—Will Follow Mennonites.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Weary of what they term religious persecution in Canada, members of the strange Russian sect of Dookhoos are ready to leave their Canadian homes for greener fields in the wilds of the Paraguayan Chaco.

Preparations for the future mass migration will be started today in New York, where Dr. Enrique Borras will go to discuss plans with a delegation of Dookhoos, who also will go to Paraguay to select a locality for the new colony.

Heartened by reports of the success of the Mennonites in the Chaco, which has grown in 10 years to a community of 6,000 and guaranteed complete religious freedom in Paraguayan law, the Dookhoos have been flocking to begin in a strange land the life they started 30 years ago in Canada.

EXPULSED SECT
The Dookhoos in Canada are a remnant of a sect expelled from Russia. Literally, the name means "spiced" or "seasoned." They have no stated places of ceremonies of worship, no clergy and no creed, but they deny the divinity of Christ, and give mystical interpretation to the scriptures.

Frequent clashes with Canadian authorities have kept the sect from the public in recent years. Their rebellion has taken the form of mass processions in public places, resulting in the arrest and imprisonment of some of their leaders.

PARAGUAY WELCOMES
Several months ago a representative of the Saskatchewan colony conferred with Harry A. Decol, British Paraguayan consul in Los Angeles, concerning the prospects for settling in the Chaco.

The matter was referred to the Paraguayan government, through the legation here and a decision reached to afford the immigrants the advantages of a large area from the war zone where Paraguay and Bolivia are at present at war, and the untamed wilderness in the west.

PEACEFUL INVASION
Dr. Borras said his government would welcome the peaceful invasion of the Dookhoos, just as it did the Mennonites, as aid in opening up the virgin country to the north. The sect always has been agricultural in its life, and its members are prohibited the use of alcohol. They are, he said, in the Chaco, an opportunity to cultivate the fruits and vegetables which comprise their entire diet.

LAND IS CHEAP
The land is not free in the Chaco, Dr. Borras said, but would be purchased from private interests for a sum ranging from $2 to $5 an acre. The Dookhoos arrived 35 years ago in Canada, owning nothing but the clothes they wore, and now they claim aggregate cash assets of more than $10,000,000. This money, he said, would go with them to Paraguay.

The government there, in addition to religious liberty, guarantee foreign settlers and their children exemption from military service and the freedom from taxation for 10 years.

B.C. Dairymen Protest Alberta Butter Influx
VICTORIA, May 20.—Dairymen of the Fraser Valley are understood to be preparing representation to the dominion marketing authorities against the sale of Alberta butter in Vancouver at what they claim to be "loss leader" prices. The valley producers have been operating under a marketing scheme for the last year.

Hon. K. C. Macdonald, minister of agriculture, said the British Columbia government will not initiate any move to control inter-provincial imports, but would co-operate with private agencies in representations against imports at prices below those obtaining in the province.

'Peg' Watchmen Guarding City-Owned Homes
WINNIPEG, May 20.—It's costing the city of Winnipeg $1 a day to take over homes for non-payment of taxes. Vandals have entered several houses, ripping away fire woodwork, necessitating employment of a watchman to guard the properties.

A primitive tribe of savages in Korea is said to marry by merely shaking hands.

Seattle Men Cavort In Long Nighties, Barefoot
SEATTLE, May 20.—Five men wearing nightshirts, each carrying a calico cat and a lighted candle, galloped barefoot through a Seattle Park Sunday while 6,000 fellow citizens laughed hysterically at the show.

It was Seattle's pull-out-the-cat derby, the second recent event of its kind sponsored by city administration on the theory the public was roused in some free comedy now and then.

"There were only five night shirts in Seattle," the park board explained, "so we couldn't have 50 racers."

RELIEF WORK STARTS UNDER POLICE GUARD

Workers Move Unmolested Through Crowd of Strike Pickets

With a dozen stalwart policemen forming a guard, 18 married unemployed went to work on a city street repaving job near the C.N. tracks on 93rd Street Monday morning.

The relief workers passed unmolested through a crowd of strike pickets, who moved off as soon as they were ordered by the officers.

Six men went to work at the South Side auto camp, where police also kept back a number of picketers.

SINGLE JOBLESS LEAVE
At 5:30 a.m. Monday, 19 single unemployed men left the community kitchen in a Grey Line bus for Stony Plain, where they will work for the provincial government on highway construction. Eighty were called.

A few pickets were on hand at the kitchen, but aside from hurling a few uncomplimentary remarks at the departing workers, no attempt was made to forcibly stop the party from boarding the bus.

40 PICKETMEN
The largest crowd of picketers since the strike started, composed of a wide circle round the city streets, 16th Ave. and 45th street, at an early hour Monday. Upwards of 40 city police arrived at the bars at 7:30 and immediately took up positions at different points. The strikers, remembering the outcome of last Friday's skirmish, took no chances on packing in a solid mass, but were scattered in groups of three.

Whenever police approached with riot sticks the picketers moved away without a word.

Shortly after 8 a.m. a group of 18 men with picks and shovels moved out of the stable yard, followed by a dozen police officers. The party proceeded along the avenue to 45th street and went to work just south of the railway tracks.

Police cleared a few picketing men and women from doorways of houses and blocks near where the men were working.

CHIEF LOOKS
Chief Constable A. G. Shute of the city force and Col. H. M. New, assistant commissioner of the M.P. here, watched the situation from in front of the stables.

The police are experiencing increasing difficulty with women picketers and clothing allowances have been met. Decision to continue picketing despite the order of the court to the picket lines, presenting an extremely difficult problem to the officers.

At meetings held at strike headquarters Saturday and Sunday the strikers again stated their determination to continue the walkout until all demands for increased wages and clothing allowances have been met. Campaign Who's-Who Thumbnail Sketches of Candidates in the Provincial General Elections.

By T. B. WINDROSS.

In selecting Robert Barrowman, former mayor of Lethbridge, as their candidate for election in the next provincial contest, the Liberals of that city made a popular and promising choice. Mr. Barrowman has been long enough in public service to prove his worth.

His life was spent at Arundel, Scotland, on December 24, 1881, where he attended the Public schools. When a young man of 22 he left home in the busy Lethbridge burg, with extensive coal and iron and limestone industries, and emigrated to Canada. He lived and worked from the time he came to Canada in 1904 and served in the capacity of a taking a trip to South America and the West Indies, in 1926. He became city manager in 1928, when that form of civic government was introduced, and he served seven times as mayor of the city, retiring from that post on January 3rd, 1935.

He is now vice-president of the provincial Liberal Association of Alberta, and takes a prominent part in all that goes on in the interest of the community. He is a Presbyterian in church matters.

Mr. Barrowman, a great traveler, having visited Germany, France, Belgium, Holland, England, Scotland and a trip during 1932. He says travel is one of his hobbies. He also is very fond of amateur theatricals and of fishing.

In politics his policy is that governments should not live on borrowed money, and that important adjustments are necessary in the fiscal field of taxation to save the homes of the people.

WOUNDED GIRL PASSES AWAY
ELFRORS, Sask., May 20.—Thorndis Thompson, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson, district farmer, who was found shot through the head Friday, died in Wadena Hospital this afternoon.

The girl was discovered in her home by her brother, Ole, when he came in from the fields. She was rushed to hospital at Wadena where examination showed the bullet lodged in the brain near the base of the skull. No inquest is likely.

STRIKE ADVERTISED
That the Communists of Vancouver should have suffered as a result of such a dispute is more than regrettable, but they have no quarrel with the relief camp strikers and they have no quarrel with the city of Vancouver.

"Fortunately for the time being we have averted the calamity of a general strike. At the same time public opinion here is overwhelmingly in sympathy with the bona fide claims of relief camp strikers. Public opinion is not, however, ripe for the Communist demand for possible for instance parade and disorders that have taken place from Ottawa and now that Prime Minister Bennett has returned there can be no justification for the attitude of the Communist continuing."

VANCOUVER IS NOW FORGOTTEN CITY: M'GEER

Mayor Deplores Indifference of Federal Govt. In Crisis

VANCOUVER, May 20.—"We are living in Vancouver from day to day not knowing what the morning may bring forth, but as far as Ottawa is concerned we seem to be a foreign city," Mayor G. C. McGeer declared as Sunday passed without word from Ottawa as to what steps will be taken in connection with the relief camp strike situation here.

Mayor McGeer made the following statement:

Ottawa seems to have forgotten that Vancouver exists. In the face of the serious situation, it is impossible to believe that the government of Canada can apparently act with utter indifference to the problem of finding a solution to the difference, that now exist.

FEDERAL PROBLEM
"The disaster that has continued in Vancouver during the last six weeks is due entirely to differences that exist between unemployed men in relief camps under national jurisdiction and the national government."

"It is true that Communists have taken advantage of the situation to agitate and foment further trouble but the fact nevertheless remains that the relief camp strike was a protest against the federal government's relief policy and against claims of administration to which the men of the strike objected."

Alaska Steamer On Reef, Sinks, All Hands Saved

SEATTLE, May 20.—A half million dollar liner, including her cargo, the Denali of the Alaska Steamship Company, lay at the bottom of the Pacific today, after her shattered forepeak which hung on a reef off Zayin Island, B.C.

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, May 20.—Broken in two on a reef off Zayin Island, B.C., the steamship Denali was abandoned, a total wreck, late Sunday, after the main section of her hull slid off into deep water.

The coastguard cutter Cyane, headed for Ketchikan with the crew and passengers, and the ocean-going tug Salvage King, was on route back to Victoria, B.C. A fire broke out in the engine room shortly before the ship broke in two.

The Cyane rescued eight officers, 25 members of the crew and seven passengers and four seamen. The Denali struck at 2:15 a.m. and a brisk southwesterly wind which sprang up later completed her wreck. A valuable cargo of canned and mining machinery was on board.

The Denali, 2,475 tons, left Seattle Thursday for Alaska ports.

No Franco-German Separate Pacts
PARIS, May 20.—French dispatches from Berlin indicated last night that France's foreign minister, Pierre Laval, told General Hermann Wilhelm Goerring at Krakow that an international set-up of mutual assistance pacts, such as the new Franco-Russian accord, is still open to Germany.

Laval refused, however, the dispatches indicated, to negotiate privately with Reichschancellor Adolf Hitler.

Written on this column task for years, and only recently has had the help of a joint Parliamentary Committee. It is expected that publication cost will amount to $70,000.

Cards' Ace Hurer Overcomes Injury To Triumph By 7-3

Holds Braves To Seven Hits and Features in Eighth Inning Rally With a Single.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—Dizzy Dean, pitching despite a slight knee injury, turned in his fifth victory of the season Sunday as the world champion Cardinals defeated Boston Braves 7-3 in their finale before 12,000 spectators.

The dizzy one held the Braves to seven hits and put the finishing touches on his own rally by taking the leading role in the four-run eighth-inning Cardinal victory with a single.

Bobo Ruth, who has hit safely only once in 10 times at bat in the season series, made a brilliant running catch of Collins' drive in the first inning but was ineffective all the plate and retired in the eighth.
